		0636 (Medicare only)	Drug requiring detailed coding

Note: Providers should use clinical judgment when selecting codes and should use the codes that most accurately represent the services delivered. The coding information presented here should not be construed as legal advice or a guarantee of payment.

HCPCS Coding in the Hospital Outpatient Department – Additional Considerations

Effective April 1, 2015, ILUVIEN was assigned a unique HCPCS C-code, C9450. The descriptor of C9450 is “Injection, fluocinolone acetonide intraocular implant, 0.01 mg.”

Effective January 1, 2016, ILUVIEN was assigned a unique HCPCS J-code, J7313. The descriptor of J7313 is “Injection, fluocinolone acetonide intraocular implant, 0.01 mg.”

It is important to note that the HCPCS billing unit for J7313 and C9450 is 0.01 mg. Each ILUVIEN implant contains a fixed dose of 0.19 mg and should be billed as 19 units using J7313 or C9450 for appropriate reimbursement.

While it is not required to include additional information in Box 19, it is recommended that you include the product NDC which is 68611-0190-02. You may also include the product description as a source of additional information for the payer: “Injection, fluocinolone acetonide intraocular implant, 0.01 mg”.

See payer-specific guidelines or consult the ILUVIEN AccessPlus Program to determine the drug code that should be used.

Commonly Requested Information Includes:

- Drug name: ILUVIEN
- National Drug Code (NDC):
 - 10- digit format: 68611-190-02
 - 11- digit format: 68611-0190-02
- Route of administration: Intravitreal injection (IVT)
